AM900

The AM900 work light is used in a variety of functions out there. Let's talk about what this comes with. For starters. Every AM900 work light comes with its swivel mounting kit. To install it, simply connect the swivel bracket to the light. The light is an IP67 water resistant light. It comes with a 12 foot wire exit along with a red and black cable that connects to constant power. The AM900 WT light is also powered by 12 volts and has eight LEDs consuming 25 watts total. Every AM900 work light is manufactured with a powder coat finish preventing any kind of long-term corrosion that summarizes all the features and functions of the AM900 work light.
